

Laugh out loud with 'Noises Off'

Morgan Hill Times

Lora Schraft | Posted: Thursday, December 2, 2010 12:00 am

From left, Jonathan Bass, as Lloyd Dallas, Peter Mandel, as Frederick Fellowes, Rosalind Favotte, as Dotty Otley and Travis Blanchard, as Garry Lejeune perform during rehearsals.

Jason Harris, as a burglar, climbs through the window to rob a residence during dress rehearsals Wednesday for the South Valley Civic Theater production of 'Noises Off'.

BayAreaTheatreBums: SVCT Presents Noises Off

12/6/10

“Hilarious!”

“I couldn’t stop laughing. I am going to come back next week.”

“One of the funniest shows I have seen in a long, long time.”

“A great comedy and so well put together! Big props to the actors, they did an amazing job!”

You don’t want to miss this show!!

SVCT’s production of Noises Off is a glorious opportunity to watch slamming doors, one breaking window, many trips up and down stairs and false entrances, while listening to flubbed lines, miscues, a dramatic highlight, and a million laughs all while trying to find a missing plate of sardines.

Michael Frayn’s Noises Off is “the funniest comedy ever written.” It follows a hapless troupe of actors presenting the sex farce ‘Nothing On’. With a burglar who doesn’t know a television from a microwave, an actress who keeps losing her contact lenses, and a web of romantic entanglements. The action degenerates from infighting among the cast and crew into open hostility.

Bay Area Critic-at-Large

Noises Off: South Valley Civic Theatre: A Fun time at the Theatre

Sunday, December 18, 2010

Gregory M. Alonzo

This show has had its run, so there's no point in a detailed review. Suffice it to say that this was a first rate production of an uproariously funny play. The cast was uniformly fine, with standouts too numerous to mention. It's such a pleasure to laugh out loud and mean it! I'll certainly be back to see future SVCT events.

